Early in his career, Jonathan pivoted from news reporting to law and has been working in the tech, media, and telecom (TMT) fields ever since. He leverages his deep knowledge of the legal, regulatory, political, and public policy landscape in D.C. to help TMT clients ranging from innovative start-ups to Fortune 30 companies understand and manage risk and overcome regulatory and transactional challenges to their business objectives. His ability to achieve positive results for them stems from instincts gained through scores of commercial transactions and a wide variety of leading TMT public policy issues over the past 40+ years, more recently including artificial intelligence and online content regulation. Jonathan draws on expertise gained through a long career practicing law and on knowledge gained through his work in government (at the FCC and The White House), on political campaigns, and in the media.

Jonathan co-chairs the Emerging Issues in Technology committee of the FCBA-The Tech Bar® and he frequently speaks in educational settings and at industry gatherings. He has been singled out for nationwide recognition for “outstanding service” on corporate and commercial transactions, holds the Martindale Hubbell AV® Preeminent Peer Review Rating, and is perennially selected as a Washington D.C. SuperLawyer.

Jonathan devotes time to pro bono legal matters and volunteer activities and was named to the D.C. Bar’s Pro Bono Honor Roll for 2021. He spends his recreational time with his family (which of course includes the dogs) and likes to hike, bike, golf, and swim.
